

Eyes

Intro:

G7 C G7 C
F G Ab Bb C Fm C

Verse 1:

G7 C G7 C
When I'm trying to decide if a girl looks nice
G7 C G7 C
I don't look at her boobs, no I look in her eyes
G7 C G7 C
And when my view of this girl is just from the rear
G7 C G7 C
I don't stare at her skirt, I say "turn around dear
Dm G C
Cause I'd like to see your eyes."

Verse 2:

Then she stares at me awkwardly, as I stare in her face
And I'm trying to decide if she's worth an embrace
If I should hug her and then if I feel enough love
I won't go in for a kiss, I'll go slightly above
Yeah I'll go in for her eyes

Chorus:

F C G C
Cause you'll never go back, not after you try
F C G C
Sticking your tongue into some girl's eye
F C G am
Yeah breasts are alright I suppose, I won't say no
F G Ab Bb C Fm C
But that's not where my tongue wants to, not where my hands want to go

Verse 3:

And the first time I did this it quite changed my life
I added nice eyes to my requirements for a wife
And when she kissed me back, well I knew right then
That she was a lover, not really a friend
Cause we'd traded an eye for an eye

Verse 4:

And what is love if not to share
Those highly sensitive places where
There's lots of nerves, not many people touch
I exaggerate, but not by much
Cause what's more sensitive than the eye

Chorus with different last line:

F G Ab Bb Eb
But that's not where my tongue wants to, not where my hands want to go

Bridge:

Eb B x4

Eb B Eb B
Why go anywhere, near any hole
Eb B Eb B Bb A
When the eye's the window to the soul

Eb B Eb B
And why risk unwanted pregnancy
 Eb B Eb Bb
When you can't contract that optically?

Chorus 3, transposed to Eb:

 Ab Eb Bb Eb
Cause you'll never go back, not after you try
Ab Eb Bb Eb
Sticking your tongue into some girl's eye
 Ab Eb Bb Cm
Yeah breasts are alright I suppose, I won't say no
 Ab Bb B C#
But that's not where my tongue wants to, not where my hands want to
D E F G
Not where my teeth want to, not where my lips want to
Ab Bb C Fm C Fm C Fm C
Not where my eyes want to... go
